COUNTY 'ISLAND' VOTES THURSDAY ON ANNEXATION

Completely surrounded by Pasadena, a portion of the famous county island in the east part of the city will go to the polls Thursday to determine whether it will join Pasadena to get protective services which have been sought by many of the residents for more than two decades. Known as the Maple annex, this area has petitioned for annexation to Pasadena.

Bounded on the east by Linda Rosa avenue and on the west by Allen avenue, the territory includes Locust, Corson, Maple, Wagner and Villa streets.

Some 476 sample ballots were sent out by City Clerk Clara Belle MacLellan, but nine of them were returned, so there are now 467 qualified voters living in the annexation territory, she announced.

Polls for the special Maple annexation election will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

For years residents in the area have attempted annexation to Pasadena but each time they were defeated in their efforts. Usually petitions were circulated following some tragedy such as fire or accident which Pasadena protective services are not permitted to cover under the city's ordinances. Houses and garages have burned down in the past and even though fire plugs were just across the street in city territory, city fire engines could do nothing. Upon many occasions the city ambulance was called for accidents, but the calls could not be answered by the emergency hospital because it is not permitted to go outside the city.

Maple Annex

City in New Bracket

Feb. 5, 1946

100,409 Population Achieved by Pasadena in 'Island' Annexation

With the annexation yesterday of approximately one-half of the famous "county island," Pasadena's official population today had jumped to 100,409. By reaching the 100,000 mark Pasadena was placed in a new bracket of municipalities which will be of benefit to many local business concerns and the community as a whole.

The so-called Maple Street annexation passed by better than a 2 to 1 vote yesterday. There were 177 affirmative votes cast and 82 in opposition. Only 259 of the 437 eligible voters went to the polls. The State gives a credit on population of three persons for each registered voter. The Greenwood annexation added 728 persons and the Maple annexation 1401 which added to the Federal Census of 98,279 places Pasadena well over the 100,000 level.

Check Edison Value

Field operations are now being made to estimate the value of Southern California Edison lines in areas annexed to Pasadena in the past year. When the inventory has been completed Pasadena will begin condemnation proceedings to acquire the lines.

Ever since the Edison company withdrew from Pasadena competition, an agreement has been in force whereby the City would take over Edison properties after annexation on a stipulated basis of value. This part of the agreement has now expired and it is necessary to conduct a friendly condemnation suit to accomplish this goal.

Owners Eager

Property owners in areas annexed are eager for the City to proceed with the action since city rates for electricity are considerably lower than those of the Edison company.

ANNEXATION PUTS CITY OVER 100,000

Pasadena went over the 100,000 mark in population yesterday when the so-called "Maple Annex" along last after several previous tries voted itself into the city.

In the special annexation election in the area yesterday, the proposition carried by 177 "Yes" to 82 "No" in a total vote of 259.

The "Maple Annex" area is bounded on the east by Linda Rosa avenue, and on the west by Allen avenue, the territory including Locust, Corson, Maple, Wagner and Villa streets.

According to the city clerk's office, there are 437 qualified voters in the area.
